Why Guardianships?

In British boarding schools, the school is typically responsible for your child's welfare during the school term. However, in some instances such as exeats, holidays or when your child is ill, when the responsibility of care falls to the Educational Guardian. At Harbour House, we understand that communication across borders and time zones, also sometimes in a foreign language, can be stressful for parents and students alike.. We strive to provide you with confidence that your child is safe looked after and that communication is stress-free. With the knowledge that distance between families can add to concerns, we always respond promptly to both student and parent needs. Our 24/7 Emergency contact number offers round the clock peace of mind for our students and parents. We have excellent Guardian and Host Families located throughout the country who are passionate about opening their homes and welcoming our international students. Our approved families remain with us for many years and their experience is invaluable.

Our Host Families

At Harbour House, the safety of our students is our primary concern. We recruit host families following a rigorous vetting procedure and formal interview process at the potential hosts family home and we are fully responsible for carrying out the necessary safeguarding and administrative checks before contracting a family.
